WHAT IS CNT?

CNT-Liquiessence is used mainly to strengthen and bind connective tissues. When cellular disfunction occurs, the biological activities within the cells become obstructed, unresponsive, or destroyed. CNT-Liquiessence supplies microscopic amounts of vital nutrients to the cells. This aids impaired or damaged cells in absorbing and utilizing the needed nutrients for normal connective tissue function. The connective tissues are the structural portions of our body that essentially hold the cells of the body together. These tissues form a framework or matrix for the body. The connective tissues are composed of two major structural molecules, collagen and elastin. There are many different collagen proteins that vary in amount in each tissue of the body. Elastin is another protein that has the capability of stretching and returning to original length like a spring. Elastin is the major component of ligaments (tissues which attach bone to bone).

Backed By Results!

One of the biggest concerns in today's market is the lack of ability to create a product that can correct joint and tendon problems without waiting months to years!

Many people are familiar with products such as Glucosamine or Curcumin to ease the pain of joints, but what we do know is that when we take a closer look at these products that studies have shown they only repair at a 1-2% rate per year! We also have discovered that you need the right dosage and combination of products to make an effective formulation. Over the years we have found that many people have given up on many products to repair the underlying issue in regards to joints and tendon pains. FINALLY we have created CNT-Liquessence for this reason. We have found this to be a home run product with a 99% success rate. We at Health and Harmony refer to it as our, "Home Run Product!"

There have been many reports of surgery's to take place for knee replacement, but when the individual went in the doctors were amazed at the change. Experience the results for yourself by trying CNT today!

A CLOSER LOOK AT CONNECTIVE TISSUE DISEASE...

Connective tissue disorders include a family of more than 200 different disorders that affect connective tissues. Connective tissue disorders are caused primarily by gene mutations affecting the production of tissue and by a number of different specific and overlapping autoimmune diseases.

In autoimmune connective tissue disorders, specific organs (organ-specific diseases) or multiple organs (systemic diseases) may be affected. Up until the late 70's, most systemic or rheumatological autoimmune diseases were referred to as connective tissue diseases or collagen diseases. Today, connective tissue diseases are classified as either 1) autoimmune connective tissue disorders such as lupus disorders, rheumatoid arthritis, and dermatomyositis or 2) heritable connective tissue disorders (HCTDs) such as Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, epidermolysis bullosa, and Marfan syndrome caused by gene mutations. In the HCTDs, alterations in affected genes may change the structure and development of connective tissue in specific organs.

Females are more likely to be affected than males, and although the prime age is 30-50 years, people of all ages may be affected. Most of the autoimmune connective tissue disorders affect multiple tissues, and the blood vessels are the organs most often affected. Many of the specific autoimmune connective disorders tend to overlap or appear in conjunction with other connective tissue disorders.

Symptoms in autoimmune connective disorders may affect the function of specific organs such as the kidney involvement that often occurs in SLE or the joint pain characteristic of rheumatoid arthritis. Pain, inflammation, tenderness, dryness and irritation of mucous membranes, and rashes and hives are all prominent features.

We at Health and Harmony work day and night in order to ensure that you wake up in a world where you never hear the words, "There is no cure."

Standard products today only effect the physical aspect. Health and harmony created Multidimensional products to address not only physical, but spiritual, mental, and emotional levels as well.

Deepak Chopra said that the greatest pharmacy is between a person's two ears (the brain) and as such the inner intelligence of the body, which maintains equilibrium in all systems, can be influenced by thought, speech, beliefs, and attitudes. Higher vibrational thought such as thoughts about higher purposes in life, doing good to others, loving others is a spiritual aspect of vibration. When we live in an inner environment of love, grace, peace, and forgiveness, we will be healthier and happier. Multidimensional products encourage higher vibrational influences to aid the body, emotions, mind, spirit, and soul. The animating force of life, inner intelligence has an affinity for higher purposes and a desire to be in equilibrium or balance. Experience has shown that by addressing the inner-intelligence of the body, the healing effect is heightened with fewer complications. Our products work with the body to encourage its natural processes in the order that the body would like them to be addressed.
